THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

As the College Opens in 1951

This fall issue of the Alumnae Magazine brings you the sad tidings of the death of our beloved friend and seventeenth president of Wesleyan, Dr. Silas Johnson, which occurred in New York City on October 26.

Dr. Johnson was with us at the opening of Wesleyan for its 114th session, presiding at the formal exercises on September 20th. Shortly afterward he went to New York on business for the college, and after his appointment with officials there, went to Pennsylvania Station to board a train for home. He was stricken in the station, and taken to French Hospital in New York, very seriously ill. His wife and his son, Douglas, flew to his bedside, and remained there during the four weeks of his illness, which was diagnosed as acute leukemia. From the first, little hope was held for his recovery, although he was conscious most of the time, and his concern was for the college always. Officials of Wesleyan went to New York to see him, and he talked with all of them, making plans for the meeting of the Board of Trustees on October 11.

It was at this meeting of the Board that a Trustee Committee appointed Dr. William F. Quillian, former president of the college, as Acting President of Wesleyan, to carry on the affairs of the College during this emergency.

Messages and flowers from faculty, students, and officials of the college went to Dr. Johnson. In October, through the Red Cross Bloodmobile, 72 members of the college family gave blood for the new type of transfusions which were used in an effort to save his life.

We are fortunate in having Dr. Quillian, closely associated with the college as president from 1920 to 1931 and since that time as Trustee, to come to the help of the institution at such a time. There will be no interruption of the work. Dr. Quillian knows and loves Wesleyan as few men do. He is to be relieved of some of his duties as Executive Secretary of the Southeastern Jurisdictional Council in order to serve Wesleyan in this time of need.

In Memoriam

Dr. Silas Johnson, Seventeenth President of Wesleyan

If he could have chosen a last and all-important mission on earth before his final call came, Dr. Johnson would have chosen something for Wesleyan.

In one of his happiest moments, signing checks to pay off Wesleyan's moral obligation.

Perhaps he should not have taxed his strength to go to New York. Doubtless he was already ill; in fact, he said to some of the college staff that he hardly felt up to it. But he wanted to present the cause of Wesleyan to certain groups he felt might help the institution he loved, and nothing else seemed of importance.

When the interest of Wesleyan was at stake, he never spared himself. In his inaugural speech in December, 1947, he expressed the key-note of his administration:

"I consider that the call to the Presidency of Wesleyan is a holy one. This office is to me as sacred as the altar of the church. I cannot believe I am deserving of this high honor. I accept the position because I love Wesleyan and the things for which it stands."

For eighteen years Silas Johnson was closely associated with the college, succeeding the Rev. Osgood F. Cook as trustee. In 1941 he served as Executive Vice-President under the presidency of Bishop Arthur J. Moore. During this year he located all of the outstanding bonds of the college, and raised sufficient funds for their purchase. This was accomplished on August 1, 1942, and shortly thereafter Wesleyan was restored to accreditation with the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, and subsequently with the Association of American Universities. In 1942, he left the college to serve the pastorate of Mulberry Street Methodist Church, where he was instrumental in helping the church to pay off the moral obligation on its bonds.

In 1947 he returned to Wesleyan as president, and began immediately a campaign to pay the moral obligation on the bonds of the college. This was completed in 1949, and a ceremony was held on the Rivoli campus in 1950 celebrating the burning of these bonds.

The endowment has been greatly increased during Dr. Johnson's administration, and the faculty strengthened. But he had visions of far greater things for this college in which he believed and to which he gave all the strength of his being. With the last bit of his strength he made this final effort for Wesleyan.

The task is now in other hands. May they accept it with as much devotion as he showed, and remain as loyal to the task as he was.

Dr. William F. Quillian

Dr. William Fletcher Quillian

Dr. William F. Quillian came to Wesleyan as acting president while Dr. Johnson was ill, and is to continue indefinitely as president of the college. He is familiar with the workings of the college, having served on the Board of Trustees for many years since his administration as president from 1920 to 1931.

It was while Dr. Quillian was president that the permanent Alumnae Office was established, and the full-time Executive Secretary for this work was added to the staff.

His wife, Nonie (Acree) Quillian of the class of 1909, has served as president of the Atlanta Alumnae Club, and their daughter, Christine (Quillian) Searcy, A.B. '33, was president of her class. Their son, Dr. William F. Quillian, Jr., now on the faculty of Ohio Wesleyan College, was Alumnae Day speaker in 1949.

The Alumnae Association can count on the whole-hearted cooperation of all of the Quillians.

Changes In Faculty and Staff

Dr. Harvard Vallance, pioneer in teacher education in the midwest and educator of nearly 50 years' experience, has been made Dean of Wesleyan Conservatory, succeeding Mrs. Doris O. Jelks, who continues as a member of the music faculty of the conservatory. Dr. Vallance is dean emeritus of Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and was at Wesleyan last year reorganizing the teacher-training program on the liberal arts campus.

Dr. Elizabeth Hyde, formerly head of the chemistry department at Mt. Holyoke College, graduate of the University of Illinois, succeeds Dr. James C. Cox, Jr., who resigned to go to the United States Military Academy faculty at Annapolis.

Professor William Skelton, who holds music degrees from the University of Illinois and from Yale University, comes to Wesleyan from New Haven, Conn. where he was a member of the Symphony Orchestra, to teach music education. He succeeds the late H. A. Losson.

Dr. John Walton, graduate of the University of Kentucky and of Johns Hopkins University, heads the department of education at Wesleyan. Dr. Walton was visiting professor of education and philosophy at Wesleyan summer school in 1950. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Mrs. John Walton, wife of Dr. Walton, is a graduate of Huntingdon College and of the University of Colorado. She taught art at Queens College last year, and will teach in the art department at the conservatory, as well as some classes in education.

Mrs. F. Hodge O'Neal, wife of the dean of the law school at Mercer, graduate of Wellesley College, will teach English at Wesleyan in the place of Miss Katharine Johnson who has a year's leave of absence for special work in Japan.

Professor W. E. Hopkins, formerly of Louisiana State University, graduate of the University of Virginia and of V.P.I., is in the sociology department, succeeding Dr. Guy Sarvis who retired.

Mr. Melvin L. Covey, graduate of Washington University and of the University of Illinois, will teach Latin and journalism on the Rivoli campus, succeeding in the journalism work Mr. Richard Murphey who resigned to accept a position in editorial work in New York.

Mrs. Clyde Green Martin, B.M., graduate of Wesleyan Conservatory in 1945, will be on the music faculty of the conservatory.

Miss Marian Lewis, B. M. 1949, will teach in the junior department of music.

Miss Mary Pate, A.B. 1948 and B.F.A. 1950, will teach in the department of speech. Mary received her M.A. degree in corrective speech from Columbia this year.

Mrs. W. M. Fleming, formerly in charge of the Wesleyan Pharmacy, is dietitian on the Rivoli campus, succeeding Miss Fannie White who resigned to open a tea room of her own in Milledgeville.

Miss Ellen E. Garrett, formerly of Ward Belmont College, is assistant dietitian, succeeding Miss Mary Jo Thompson, who is associated with Miss White in Milledgeville.

Mrs. Evelyn Somerville, who has been assistant dietitian at the conservatory, is dietitian this year, succeeding Miss Nannette Rozar who resigned to be with her mother whose health is frail.

Tekla Jean Davis, A. B. 1950, and Jerry Thompson, B.F.A. 1950, are Field Representatives of Wesleyan.

Mrs. J. H. Redmond, wife of the superintendent of buildings and grounds on the Rivoli campus, is supplying as switchboard operator for Miss Susie Fulwood, who has been ill since early summer, and was unable to take up her duties at Wesleyan this fall. Miss Fulwood has been on the staff of Wesleyan since 1924 as secretary and as switchboard operator.

Mrs. Mike Pope of Macon came to the college in the spring as secretary to the Director of the Wesleyan Foundation, Mr. Tigner Thrasher.

Mrs. Lois M. Burns of Macon is secretary to the president on the conservatory campus.

Mrs. Harriet Wolf is assistant in the library, succeeding Margaret Gaillard, A.B. '39, who returned to a teaching position in Miami after a leave of absence.

Not on the campus this year, besides those mentioned above are:

Miss Julia Johnston, who is doing graduate work at Mt. Holyoke;

Dr. Alvin Nelson, on the faculty of Andrew College; Miss Maria Bizzoni, who has a position at Morehead College in Kentucky;

Mr. Roy Domingos, who has a year's leave of absence for study in New York;

Miss Evelyn Smith, who resigned to accept a position at The College of Western Maryland; Mrs. Howard Ingley and Mrs. Elizabeth Barnhill Stanley, who resigned because of home duties;

Miss Lucile Blanch, now living and painting in Sarasota, Fla.;

Mr. Frederick Scudder, doing graduate work at Yale;

Miss Gladys Wells, who has returned to her native England.

Alumnae Association Officers and Alumnae Trustees

This is the year for election of new officers of the national Alumnae Association who will serve for a term of three years. Each year, also, we elect a new Alumnae Trustee who will replace the one who completes her three-year term of office.

At a meeting of the Alumnae Board of Managers in October it was suggested that the section of the By-Laws having to do with nominations for officers and trustee be printed in the magazine, in order that all alumnae may know how this is done. Following is this section:

ARTICLE X.

Nominations Committee

There shall be a Nominations Committee of five members appointed by the Board of Managers from the Alumnae Representatives on the Alumnae Council.

The Nominations Committee shall make nominations for all positions to which candidates are to be elected or for which nominations are to be made by members of the Association.

The report of the Nominations Committee shall be presented at a meeting of the Alumnae Council. The Council shall receive the report of the Nominations Committee and shall make a nomination for each office that is to be filled to the members of the Association at its annual meeting.

Independent Nominations: Nominations may also be made by petition; such petition to be signed by not fewer than twenty members representing at least three geographical sections and filed with the Nominations Committee at least thirty days prior to the annual meeting.

A ballot containing the names of all candidates for all offices shall be mailed to each member with the notice of the annual meeting.

Election shall be in the manner and within the period prescribed by the Board of Managers.

The Nominations Committee will welcome suggestions for any office or for Alumnae Trustee. Send these to the chairman: Mrs. Calder Clay, 2765 Cherokee Avenue, Macon, Georgia.

BIRTHS

It has been suggested that you would like to have all births listed in one place instead of scattered throughout the class-notes, so here you are. Do you like this better? Remember, let the Alumnae Office know when you have a new baby or grandbaby.

Since the last magazine there have been born to:

1906

Jennie (Riley) Crump a grandson, the fourth son of her son, Joseph R. Crump and his wife, the former Ruth Grace, granddaughter of the late Ruby (Jones) Grace, '91, in August.

1920

Ruth (Benton) Persons, a granddaughter, Susan Rebecca Thompson. September 20.

1930

Helen (Clisby) Barfield, a third daughter, Elizabeth Michael, August 10.

1939

Marybeth (Jones) Leach, a second daughter and third child, Nancy Anne, June 18.

1940

Jessie Munroe (Jones) Whittemore, a son, John Frances, August 23.

1941

Alice (Gammage) Duke, a son, Joseph Zachary, Jr., July 31.

Paschall (Jarratt) Abkarian, a second daughter, Kim, July 29.

Helen (White) Lindell, a son, Alan, July 26.

1943

Mary (Sandefur) Brownlow, a second son, August 21.

1944

Geneva (Davidson) Baird, a daughter, Sandra Carol, September 6.

1944

Mary (Hall) Hearin, a second son, Richard Hall, July 6.

Louise (Lamar) Wood, a son, Louis Blakeman III, to be called "Blake."

Sara (Wright) Stowe, a son, Benjamin Marshall, February 24.

1945

Jeanne (Benefield) Dillard, a daughter, Paula Virginia, September 22.

Winifred (Bosch) Titterton, a daughter, Judith Leslie, August 19.

Kathryn (Gibbs) Steinbruegge, a daughter, Janet, September 18.

Bettie Ann (Hotaling) Bland, a son, James Stewart, July 9.

Elizabeth (Jones) Rutland, a son, Bob, Jr., February 16.

1946

Betty Ann (Hotaling) Bland, a son, James Stewart, July 9.

Martha (Bradford) Swann, a son, Albert Jernigan III, September 1. (Martha's husband, Lt. Swann, left three weeks before the baby's birth for his post in Anchorage, Alaska.)

Anne (Carlton) Blanchard, a daughter, Carol Ann, September 29.

Betty (Hall) Dunn, a son, James David, October 11.

Eva (Heath) Sullins, a daughter, Cornelia Anne, May 14, granddaughter of Cornelia (Adams) Heath, A.B. '13.

1947

Jacqueline (Lamm) Souder, a son, David Neil, September 13.

Louise (Pate) Skene, a son, George Neil, Jr., August 29.

Rosa (Schofield) Spivey, a daughter, Eugenia Lowe, October 10, granddaughter of Eugenia (Lowe) Spivey, '19.

1952

Sally Blanche (Johnson) Flanders, a son, Dan Eugene, April 12.

Cherie (Poe) Chichester, a son, H. L. Chichester III, August 13.

1885

Lena (Everett) Phillips lives in Louisville, Ga. She writes that she has passed her 85th birthday, but still enjoys hearing the news in the Wesleyan alumnae magazine.

Mary (Curtiss) Nunn writes: "I celebrated my 84th birthday the sixth of February, and my daughter and my Sunday School class gave me a lovely party. I had a serious fall, but have about recovered, with no bad after effects. I am enclosing a check for my Loyalty Fund gift. May God's richest blessings abide upon Wesleyan!"

Wesleyan friends were grieved to learn of the death of Susie Adele (Berry) McCrory of Ellaville in late October. Sympathy is extended to her Wesleyan daughters Anna Belle (McCrory) McKellar, '10 and Mildred (McCrory) Mitchell, '24.

1887

Zoe Stanley (Campbell) McKay celebrated her 80th birthday on July 9. Her son, Campbell McKay, and her granddaughter, Frances, came from Atlanta to be with her in Gastonia, N. C. for the occasion.

1888

Clara (Boynton) Cole, whose father established one of the first department stores in Atlanta, died in Atlanta in August after a brief illness. She was a niece of the late Bishop Atticus G. Haygood. Surviving are three daughters and two sons.

Ibbie (Prince) Wilburn writes from her home in Brooklyn, N. Y.: "I want to tell the girls of 1888 that our classmate, Carrie Speer, is in the City Hospital in Americus, Ga., where she has been and will be for a long time. I know she would love a card from any of you."

Mamie (Wheeler) Kendrick died in Macon after an illness of eight months. She is survived by one daughter, Gladys, a teacher in the Macon schools, one grandson serving in the Navy, and two great-granddaughters.

1889

Cora (Pearson) Wood, honor graduate of the class of '89, died at the home of her daughter in Coral Gables, Fla. Surviving are three children, two daughters and a son.

1890

Bessie Anthony, one of Hawkinsville's oldest and most beloved women, died of a heart attack in August. Among her survivors are Katharine P. Carnes, A.B. '13, and Virginia Jelks, '09, cousins.

Maggie (Bell) Burdick is back in Macon, and has recovered from a heart attack last winter. In response to the Loyalty Fund letter asking "Don't you want a feather in your hat?" she replied (under date of August 17 with the temperature around 100) with a very cute rhyme saying that not even a chicken needed a feather in weather like this!

Lila May Chapman presented to the Birmingham Museum of Art her collection of pressed glass goblets, a total of 234, the first permanent gift to that new institution. An interesting article on the collection appeared in a Birmingham paper in July.

1891

The class of 1891 will be grieved to learn of the death of Sallie B. (Comer) Lathrop, daughter of the late Governor B. B. Comer of Alabama, in the summer. Her brother, Hugh Moss Comer, was Alumnae Day speaker in 1950 at Wesleyan. She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham since 1890, and was one of Wesleyan's most loyal alumnae.

1892

Rosa (Talbot) Knight's daughter, Mary Knight, has a new book out, "Red Blight," published by Lorin L. Morrison of Los Angeles, Calif.

1894

Aruba is truly an island paradise, and life in the West Indies is ideal. The weather is grand—sunny and cool. We have a view of the ocean from our living room windows. The water is two shades of blue, light in the lagoon, and dark beyond with whitecaps separating them where the waves break on the coral reef. The mountains of Venezuela are visible on a clear day. The trade winds keep us cool. The wind dies down for two weeks in August so I'll see then what it is like to live near the equator without a steady breeze.

"Inland cactus grows on the hillsides; palm and lush growth on the leeward side of the island and divy-divy trees on the windy side. Parakeets keep up a constant noise. The Spanish I took at Wesleyan is a help at the open market on the wharf since Papiamento, the language spoken here, is as much Spanish as it is Portuguese and Dutch. If any of the alumnae plan a cruise of the Caribbean—to Haiti, Trinidad, etc.—add Aruba to your plans and visit me here."

Eva (Spence) Lutjens writes: "The years since I left Wesleyan have been quite busy ones for me. I taught speech and drama at Centenary College in Shreveport for three years, then got my M.A. at Columbia in speech science. In July, 1950, I was married to a wonderful Dutchman and we now live in Westchester County, N.Y. ABOUT THE ALUMNAE LOYALTY FUND

The 1950-51 year ended August 31, 1951, with the largest number of contributors in any single year since the Fund was started in 1927—1,023.

The 1951-52 year began September 1, 1951, and runs through August 31, 1952. Anytime between those dates will be all right for you to send your gift to the Loyalty Fund, but don't forget to do it sometime.

As the magazine goes to press, the first notices are going out from the Class Fund Agents.

Already 97 alumnae have given a total of $908.50, which promises well for this year's total.

THE LOYALTY FUND IS BEING USED FOR SCHOLARSHIPS FOR WORTH-WHILE STUDENTS WHO COULD NOT COME TO WESLEYAN OTHERWISE. YOU GIVE, THEREFORE IN ORDER TO HELP SOME OTHER GIRL TO HAVE THE WESLEYAN ADVANTAGES YOU HAD.
